

- ◆ Interested in bringing human rights, peace, global awareness, cultural understanding, justice, equality and conflict resolution resources into your classrooms, communities, and workplaces?
- ◆ Looking for resources to transform your school and make it a place where everyone's dignity is respected and everyone can develop to their fullest potential?
- ◆ Need advice on how to integrate these resources into your classroom?

VISIT US AT:

HUMAN RIGHTS & PEACE STORE

www.humanrightsandpeacestore.org

peace@umn.edu

651-214-8282

612-626-0041 or 888-HREDUC8

Human Rights & Peace Store

www.humanrightsandpeacestore.org

ideas, resources and inspiration for a better world

A joint venture between Growing Communities for Peace
 and the University of Minnesota
 Human Rights Center

The Human Rights and Peace Store is a joint venture between the Growing Communities for Peace and the University of Minnesota Human Rights Center. The store is an important tool for bringing Human Rights and Peace Education to our schools, homes, workplaces, and communities. We provide easy access to Human Rights and Peace Education books, curricula, posters, training guides, multimedia materials, gifts, bookmarks, kindness currency, and other resources.

Growing Communities for Peace and the University of Minnesota Human Rights Center have combined their resources and vast networks to bring human rights and peace education materials to the forefront for preschool through adult education learners. We see the importance of integrating the knowledge base and practices of human rights and peace education, because of the richness these blended domains can offer to the challenging world in which we live. These materials provide a new lens for working for justice, peace, and democracy, so that all human beings can grow and develop to their full potential with dignity and human rights.

This unique online and traveling bookstore is here to serve all of your human rights education needs! It offers well over 400 unique human rights resources for people of all ages.

University of Minnesota Human Rights Center

The Human Rights Center trains human rights professionals and volunteers through research, development and distribution of educational tools, fellowship, field, and training opportunities; creating strategic collaborations for human rights education on local, regional, national, and international levels. The Human Rights Resource Center is a national clearinghouse for Human Rights Education (HRE) training and resources and distributes human rights education materials, including training guides, resource kits, curricula, books, posters, videos; and coordinates This is My Home (www.thisismyhome.org), a statewide pre-K-12 curriculum initiative.

Contacts: Natela Jordan, Education Coordinator
 Address: N-120 Walter F. Mondale Hall, 229 19th Ave. S, Minneapolis, MN 55455
 Phone: 612-626-0041 or 888-HREDUC8
 Email: home@umn.edu

Growing Communities for Peace

Growing Communities for Peace, a non-profit organization specializing in peace education for 22 years, provides the following services: Consultation to PreK-12 schools to reframe and celebrate existing human rights and peace education strengths, and develop strategies for reaching new goals; Artist-In-Residencies to support needs at the classroom level; Staff In-service Training; Parent Education Workshops; Leadership Training for Youth and Community Workers; and an online Human Rights and Peace Education Store. The Human Rights and Peace Store travels and is available to schools, community events and conferences.

Contact: Rebecca Janke, Executive Director
 Address: PO Box 281, Lakeland, MN 55043
 Phone: 651-214-8282
 Email: peace@umn.edu