

The University of Minnesota Hubert H. Humphrey Institute of Public Affairs, Law School, and Human Rights Center present a special Panel Discussion Event

The “New Breed” of African Leaders and the Future of Human Rights and Democracy in Africa

Friday, April 6, 2007
9:00 a.m.—4:00 p.m.

Room 25 Mondale Hall
University of Minnesota Law School
229 19th Ave S.
Minneapolis, MN 55455

The Humphrey Institute, the Law School, and the Human Rights Center are proud to present a panel discussion event on Africa, Democracy, Human Rights, and U.S. Foreign Policy. Framed in the context of the phrase “the new breed of African leaders,” coined by U.S. President Bill Clinton, the discussion will critically examine the challenges and obstacles to democratization and respect for human rights that persist in African countries.

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC, BUT REGISTRATION REQUIRED

Space is limited, so register soon! For more information please visit <http://www.hrusa.org/workshops/africanleaders> or contact the Human Rights Center at 612-626-0041 or humanrts@umn.edu

Co-sponsored by the African News Journal, the African Student Association, Amnesty International Law Student Group, Amnesty International-U of M Chapter, Books for Africa, the Ethiopian-American National Alliance, the Humphrey Fellowship Program, The International Leadership Institute, Minnesota Advocates for Human Rights, Minnesota African Women’s Association, the Oromo-American Citizens Council, the Oromia Student Union, and the following U of M Departments and Programs: the African American & African Studies Department, the Department of History, the Department of Political Science, the Institute of Global Studies, and the Human Rights Program.